Attorney General John Ashcroft
U.S. Department of Justice

Washington, DC 20530

Dear Mr. Ashcroft:

I enthusiastically support the Microsoft settlement and hope to see it enacted in the immediate future. The sooner the settlement is enacted, the sooner Microsoft will be able to return to the business of making quality software.

The settlement includes many concessions on the part of Microsoft. Microsoft has agreed to licensing restrictions. These licensing restrictions will allow the twenty largest computer makers to license the Windows' operating system at the same price. This allows computer makers more freedom to select the software that they want to ship to their customers.

Microsoft has come to this settlement with interest in resolving this issue. We should resolve it as soon as the public comment ends.

Sincerely,

Mary Henry
